

The class couldn't wait to _____ their new teacher, Mrs French.	fair	The lady went to the butchers to buy some _____ for her pie.	The striker kicked the _____ into the net.	bawl	Move back two squares	The children went on every ride at the _____.	fare	Move back two squares
ball	<h1>Mr Whoops' Homophone Spelling Game</h1> You'll need: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- different coloured counters</li> <li>- a die</li> <li>- whiteboards.</li> </ul> If you land on a square with a homophone word, you must write a sentence containing that word or move back to where you came from. If you land on a square with a sentence, you must write down the homophone that is missing or move back to where you came from. First player to the finish line is the winner! 							The family got onto the tram and paid their _____.
The dog went into the garden to _____ his bone.								meat
brake								Miss a turn!
meet								bury
Finish	Start ➔	berry	The teachers at the school were ready for a much-needed _____.	Miss a turn! 	The bird swooped down to eat a _____ from the bush.	break	The bus driver had to _____ hard so he didn't hit the man.	The baby had lost his teddy and began to _____ loudly.